Message from Division 22 President

Colleagues and Friends,

Thank you for attending and being part of this gathering of Psychologists here in San Francisco. While our Mid-Year meeting gives us the opportunity to connect with those in the Division and around Rehabilitation Psychology, the APA Convention allows to reach beyond our comfort zones and consider both cross-cutting issues and challenges to our profession as well as transferable knowledge, skills and research.

For this convention, Division 22 sought programming related to health behaviors and self-management, health care disparities, and M-health interventions while still welcoming all proposals relevant to disability and rehabilitation. These areas were chosen to highlight some of the cutting-edge work being done in our field while emphasizing the connections and overlap between specialties. The difficult selection process resulted in an exciting and diverse schedule of symposiums, skill building and paper sessions and led to our programming being co-listing by 10 unique divisions. These formal offerings are complemented by the more informal and relaxed meetings, discussions and sessions that have been planned for the Division 22 Hospitality suite.

As you consider how to spend your time, I would like to personally invite you to attend our Fellows Address and our Social on Thursday evening. Our Fellows represent the Division's best and brightest and increasingly we are recognizing our rock stars in the clinical and service area as well as those who do research. The Social will serve as the location of the Awards Ceremony as well as the Presidential Address; more importantly, it is a time to relax and connect (or reconnect) with colleagues.

Equally important in planning your time is to balance the professional with the personal. I would encourage you to use this convention as an opportunity to both participate in sessions that are relevant to your work as well as those that speak to your personal life and concerns; similarly, make time for activities, social connections and other experiences that renew your enthusiasm and passion for your work as well as your overall sense of clarity, focus and balance.

Finally, in moving forward, I would encourage you to look to, or to continue to look to, Division 22 for opportunities related to volunteering, mentoring, and advocacy, as well as professional service and growth. We truly have a warm, welcoming and supportive organization and I feel honored to have served as its President for the past year.

Gratefully,
Michelle A. Meade, Ph.D.
President, Rehabilitation Psychology

Message from the American Board of Rehabilitation Psychology President

Welcome to the 2018 APA Convention. There are several ABRP and Division 22 activities you should consider during your valuable convention time.

- First, visit the American Board of Professional Psychology (ABPP) booth in the Exhibit hall to pick up some ABPP swag, and your ABRP burgundy ribbon, so you can proudly fly your rehabilitation flag!
- Support the ABPP Foundation! Come to the reception Thursday, August 9 from 5:00 to 7:00pm at The Contemporary Jewish Museum (736 Mission Street, San Francisco, CA 94103).
- There will be an informal discussion about the Rehabilitation Psychology board certification process on Friday August 10 from 10:00 to 11:00am at the Division 22 Hospitality Suite at the Hilton Union Square.
- Join us at the Division 22/ABRP/CDIP Fellows Address, Presidential Address and Social Hour on Thursday August 9 from 6:00 to 9:00pm at the Marriott Marquis/Foothill Room C.
- On Friday August 10, from 5:00 to 7:00pm, please join ABRP and Division 22 for an early career social hour in the Division 22 Hospitality Suite at the Hilton Union Square.
- On Saturday, August 11, from 8:00 – 9:30am at the Hilton Union Square (Continental 4) the ABPP will host its annual Convocation to honor those who earned ABPP this year.

Please connect with me during the convention if you would like to talk about board certification in Rehabilitation Psychology. I can usually be reached at 206.297.7616.

The van will be available "on-call" during APA 2018. Please refer to the details on the van schedule and telephone number to call for service will be in the "2018 Convention Program Supplement" that will be distributed at the convention.

WHO WE ARE

Division 22 is the APA division for professionals and trainees who are interested in health, illness, and disability and rehabilitation issues.

OUR MISSION

"To bring together APA members who are interested in the psychological aspects of disability and rehabilitation, in educating the public on important issues in disability and rehabilitation, and to develop high standards for clinical practice and research for the psychologists who work in this field."

AMERICAN PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION

DIVISION 22: REHABILITATION PSYCHOLOGY

ABOUT THE DIVISION

Rehabilitation psychology is the study and practice of the application of psychosocial principles to individuals with an array of emotional, physical, and cognitive disabilities.

Established in 1958, APA Division 22 is the primary professional organization serving rehabilitation psychologists who are concerned with the social and personal growth of individuals with disabilities from a perspective that emphasizes the whole person.

Rehabilitation psychology entails clinical practice, development and administration of programs, research, teaching, public education, injury prevention and health promotion, health policy, and advocacy for persons with disabilities and chronic health conditions.

MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS

Members of APA Division 22 enjoy a wide range of benefits, including but not limited to:

- Subscriptions to our official Division 22 journal, Rehabilitation Psychology, and our Division newsletter.
- Membership to our Division 22 listserv, RehabPsych.
- The opportunity to become more involved through our committees, special sections such as Women in Rehabilitation Psychology or Pediatric Rehabilitation Psychology, and/or our special interest groups.
- Opportunities for students and early career professionals to serve as representatives on the executive committee and/or participate in our mentoring program.
- An annual spring conference that is organized jointly with the American Board of Rehabilitation Psychology. Specific programs are offered at this conference to help our members pursue the ABBP (RP) credentials.

MEMBER CATEGORIES

There are three membership categories in APA Division 22:

Full Members

Full members of Division 22 include psychologists who are current APA members, and who also possess an interest and expertise in rehabilitation and the emotional, physical, social, and cognitive aspects of disability.

Affiliate Members

Professionals in areas such as rehabilitation counseling, nursing, audiology, speech therapy, and other related disciplines. Foreign affiliates are also welcome to join, though higher dues are required to cover the postage for our Division journal and newsletter.

Student Members

Students in clinical psychology, school psychology, social work, nursing, rehabilitation, and other related disciplines.
